UNIVERSITY HERITAGE

Carvel Hall—College Hill during the Civil War. First used as a barracks and later as a military hospital.

George Washington, as President and private citizen, urged the establishment of a national University at the seat of government. The high aims that he had in mind for a University have been the aims of the University which now bears his name. His national university "under the auspices of the General Government" was never established. Congress did not extend "the fostering hand" that he had hoped for and the endowment funds which he left in his will became worthless. Even our University did not take his name until sixty years ago.

The University has had three names and three major locations.

The impetus for the establishment of the College was furnished by the missionary zeal of a group of Baptists, whose efforts were seconded by support from public men and members of many denominations in this country and in England. Chartered by Congress in 1821 as an institution, non-denominational in character, the Columbian College in the District of Columbia occupied College Hill, a tract of forty-seven acres between 14th and 15th Streets extending northward from Florida Avenue for about half a mile. At its first Commencement President Monroe, General Lafayette, John Quincy Adams, John C. Calhoun and Henry Clay heard three young men deliver orations and saw them receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The Medical Department began instruction in 1825. The early College had periods of prosperity and of adversity. When the Civil War began it was thriving. Soon students began to join the armies of the Union and the Confederacy. College Hill was taken over by the government. After the war, prosperity returned to the College rapidly.

A marked raising of sights was noticeable throughout the College. A wider view was taken of its mission, and to indicate this new and broader concern in high education, the College became the Columbian University in 1873 and began plans to move to a mid-town site. In 1884 the new University Hall was completed, and the activities of the University were shifted to H Street, between 13th and 15th Streets. In 1904 the name of the institution was changed to The George Washington University.

In a period of financial reorganization, the University's holdings between 14th and 15th Streets were sold. In 1912 the regrouping of the University's activities in Foggy Bottom began. In a half century, the holdings of the University have grown from a remodeled school building to the vast urban University that it is today.

—Elmer Louis Kayser, Historian

A copy of the only known likeness of the Reverend Luther Rice (1783-1836), founder of the Columbian College in the District of Columbia, and one of the initiators in America of the modern missionary movement. He spent the last fifteen years of his life in incessant travel throughout the eastern states preaching the Gospel, founding churches and soliciting support for the College.

ADMINIS

The graphic features several large, solid-colored circles and thin black lines. At the top left is a large black circle. To its right is a large yellow circle. Below the black circle is a large red circle. To the right of the red circle is a large light blue circle. Further right is another large light blue circle. A thin black line connects the black circle to the yellow circle. Another thin black line connects the black circle to the light blue circle on the right. A third thin black line connects the red circle to the light blue circle next to it. A fourth thin black line connects the light blue circle next to it to a partially visible yellow circle on the far right edge of the page.

BOOSTERS

Pat Jones, Dan Hall, Suzanne Savoy, Dee Wedemeyer, Steve Delman.

Colonial Boosters is the organization created to encourage and support spectator participation at athletic events. When a student obtains a booster card, he lends his support to the University's athletic teams and is entitled to choice seats at all football and basketball games. The Colonial Boosters sponsor activities which bring students into the excitement and activity found in team sports. Such activities include car cavalcades, half-time entertainment, and pre-game rallies.

STRONG HALL

The George Washington University opened Strong Hall, its first residence hall for women, in 1935. Since then, the lounges, date rooms and sun roof of the dormitory have offered residents many diverse opportunities for entertainment and relaxation. Quiet hours, Open Houses, Christmas Parties, fraternity serenades and spring sun-bathing have become yearly rituals. This year, Strong Hall had the distinction of serving as a residence for Senior Women.

Seated: Larry Bank, Sec.; William Heller, Pres.; Leslie Koenig, Treas. Standing: Robin Kaye, Bart Loring, Sam Gilston, Paul Kravitz, Gene Brown, Bill Bancroft.

A change has come over Crawford Hall this year. The long beds high shelves and lack of closet space have experienced the laughing and shouting of the hall's men residents. Originally built as a residence for men, Crawford was used as a girl's dormitory until this year. Now the giggling of high-pitched girls' voices has been replaced by the quiet hum of boys' electric razors.

CRAWFORD HALL

THE NEW DORM

Nineteen hundred "F" Street has become a familiar and integral part of the University's campus life. The one thousand girls residing in The George Washington University New Residence Hall for Women have engaged in activities throughout the year. After the excitement of orientation and the beginning of classes, the girls settled into a program including dances, a Christmas Orphan's Party and a Christmas Banquet in the dining hall. Groups of co-els with their dates could be seen nightly in the lounges and game room.

Each floor in the New Dorm has its own Dormitory Council and carries on its own roster of activities. It is the purpose of the Coordinating Council "to coordinate the activities of the individual hall councils." The Council meets weekly to formulate policy for the New Dorm and Strong Hall. Procedures for dormitory elections and judicial matters fall under the Council's jurisdiction. Each individual Hall Council is encouraged to contribute its ideas or to bring forth grievances for discussion by the Coordinating Council.

DANCE

The Dance Production Group is a coed organization comprised of three individual dance groups. The Beginners, Intermediate and Advanced groups practice in separate work sessions where members learn the techniques of dance and performance skills. During the year, the groups are coordinated for performances. The entire Dance Production Group participates in activities such as the Homecoming Musical, studio performances, May Day activities, the annual Spring Dance Concert, Television shows and other special events. The Group's repertoire includes folk, jazz, modern dance and impromptu pieces. A sense of artistic satisfaction and personal expression are among the many benefits gained from membership in the Dance Production Group.

... that's the funniest name I've heard yet ...

Big Sis is an organization of women who help new students become oriented into campus life. The Council works actively throughout the summer coordinating activities for fall orientation. Some of the official functions for the "little sisters" are Snack 'n' Chat, Tips 'n' Tea with Topnotchers and Tasty Turnabout. Girls learn about campus activities, see a fashion show and get a chance to talk about educational plans with fellow students before registration.

Left to Right: Tom Rogers; Allen Snyder; Bob Vawter; Chuck Bookoff, Treas.; Bob Ross, Vice Pres.; Joel Shulman, Pres.; Bruce Innes, Sec.; Bruce Bereano, Social Chairman; Bill Hamann; Jim Serowick; Beau Jacoby.

The Interfraternity Council, headed by Joel Shulman, is the governing body to promote good relations among fraternities. It establishes and enforces rush rules and annually sponsors an IFC Smoker for new men students. This year IFC included a Parent's Assembly in the fall rush activities. In the spring the council sponsors the IFC Formal and a joint Sing with Panhellenic.

Jamaican Orphans

Angel Flight, through its many activities, aids the progress of the Arnold Air Society and the Pershing Rifles, and serves as a symbol of appreciation for the importance and dignity of Air Force life.

The Angels' many campus and community projects include ushering for University functions, visiting Junior Village, and assisting the AFROTC corps. Collecting clothes and books for Jamaican orphans has been a major project.

Sgt. Honanyan, Capt. Smith, Lt. Denham.

The Pershing Rifles is a National Military Honor Society. The bond of friendship is strong, developed through member participation in social events and military functions. Much of the P/R's social life involves the Angel Flight, of which the P/R's are co-sponsors.

While the military aspect is stressed in Pershing Rifles, the unit also exists as a service organization. During the school year, the P/R's manned the information booths for incoming students and ushered at University activities. Participation in various activities has created a strong bond among the Society's members.

SIGMA DELTA PI

SIGMA DELTA PI, a national honor society, seeks to foster a wider knowledge of, and a greater appreciation for, the Hispanic contribution to modern culture. It seeks to establish friendly relations between students of Hispanic and English nations, and to reward those who show special achievements and interests in the culture and literature of the Hispanic world.

Active and honorary members are nominated by the Chapter Advisor and the Spanish Department, on the basis of high scholarship and excellence in upper division Spanish studies.

Third Row: Doreen McKenna; Ruth Hurvitz; Glenda Abbott; Terry Pearl; Marsha Dublin. Absent from picture: Sandi Cavanaugh, treasurer; Judy Nevins, vice-president.

SIGMA ALPHA ETA is the honorary for students majoring in Speech and Hearing science and therapy. The chapter has a professional lecture series consisting of a team of persons involved with working with children needing speech therapy. Prominent speakers include psychologists, audiologists, and neurologists. Participation in Career Day programs in local high schools, and various tours, introduce members to speech therapy programs outside of the University Speech Clinic.

Among its goals is the fostering of a spirit of unity by coordinating the interests and efforts of persons with a common goal, by providing situations in which students and faculty may work together to advance the profession.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA is a national service and scholarship honorary. Often considered the service counterpart of Phi Beta Kappa, ODK recognizes junior, senior, and graduate men of high scholarship and outstanding leadership on campus. Tapping is held at the Homecoming Dance and on May Day.

"A thoughtful mind when it sees a nation's flag, sees not the flag only, but the nation itself, and whatever may be its symbol, its insignia, he reads chiefly in the flag, the governments, the principles, the truths, the history, which belongs to the nation."

Henry Ward Beecher

The mission of the Air Force ROTC program is to develop in prospective college graduates the qualities of leadership and other attributes essential to their progressive advancement to positions of increasing responsibility as commissioned officers and to prepare them for immediate assignment to duties in the Regular Air Force and the Air Force Reserve.

To help us fulfill our mission, these officers and enlisted men are dedicated. Through patience, tolerance, and understanding, they mold our raw potential into elements of leadership and dedication.

Again Alpha Epsilon Pi upheld its tradition of high scholarship and interest in extra-curricular activities: three Phi Beta Kappa's and eight brothers in Who's Who. Seventy-six pledges marked the largest pledge class taken in the fraternity's history. The chapter won second place in intramurals and had six members on the Student Council. Two brothers were chosen outstanding junior and senior. Victory in the Ford stuffing contest went to AEPi.

Delta Tau Telta began the Fall Semester of 1964 with a pledge class of thirty-four pledges. Three brothers played on the Varsity Basketball Team, and the chapter won its third Intramural Athletic Competition Trophy in three years. For the sixth successive year, Delts won first place in I.F.C. Sing. Brother Rolf Russart was elected Outstanding Fraternity Man on Campus. The chapter is proud to be the foster father of a Korean child.

As usual the Delts distinguished themselves by having brothers on the baseball, football, golf, and tennis teams. It looks as if the crew team has become an auxiliary of the Delt House.

In Interfraternity academic competition the Alpha Eta Chapter of Kappa Sigma not only ranked second place in scholarship, but also won the Sigma Chi Scholarship Improvement Trophy.

As an off-campus activity this year the brothers sponsored a Boy Scout troop in Anacostia, Maryland.

Annual events such as the Founders Day Banquet and the Black and White Formal were held. In addition a stag spaghetti dinner and smoker and an alumni Koffeeclatch were included on the Social Calendar. Brother Bruce Innes served as Secretary to the Interfraternity Council, Brian O'Dwyer as Vice-President of the Young Democrats, Carl Gagliardi served as Young Republican Treasurer, and Jim Paulson was active in University debating and received a University Tennis scholarship.

Phi Alpha Chapter of Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity, founded on October 14, 1914, kept up its good record of participation in campus activities with four brothers in Omicron Delta Kappa and eight brothers in Order of Scarlet. The entire chapter was on the Hatchet staff. Brother Joel Shulman was president of the Interfraternity Council, and Allan Goldberg was president of Phi Eta Sigma. Dan Greifman is president of Alpha Theta Nu, Steve Garfinkel is sports editor of the Cherry Tree, and Allen Snyder is managing editor of the Hatchet. The fraternity's 2.9 QPI was tops for the fourth semester in a row. Other 1964 awards included the Blood Drive trophy for the third straight year, 2nd place in IFC Sing, and outstanding pledge scholarship. The past year was far from dull at the SAE House near Dupont Circle. The brothers distinguished themselves in all fields of endeavor.

The SAE Athletic teams placed first in the track meet; the "B" league football team was undefeated; and the brothers placed first among frats in the swim meet.

In Varsity Athletics the SAE's had five men on the football team. The brothers are proud of their Outstanding Freshman football player. Brother Ed Rainey was one of the fast rising SAE's on the basketball court. Two brothers now participate in crew.

SAE's participated in many campus activities with Vic Clark, president of the Student Council; Bob Ross, Chairman of Homecoming and Vice President of IFC; Peter Pazzaglini, Student Body Publicity Chairman; and Jon Kline, Cherry Tree editor.

SAE had five brothers in the honorary Order of Scarlet, two brothers in Who's Who, and one brother in Omicron Delta Kappa. Also, there are four brothers in Gate and Key with "B.K." as social chairman.

The social season was highlighted by Spring Formal, the Christmas Party, and Playboy Party (complete with bunnies).

1964-65 marked Epsilon of Sigma Chi's one hundredth year at G.W., and it was indeed a good year. The brothers won the Booster Board Trophy, placed first in Holiday Season, third in intramurals, and third in I.F.C. Sing. Five Sigma Chi's were on the Student Council, six were named to Who's Who in American Universities, and four were elected to membership in Omicron Delta Kappa. Sigs continued to be active on the Hatchet.

Brother Dick Cunningham was valedictorian at the 1964 graduation, and the chapter placed first in scholarship in the Eastern Province of Sigma Chi.

New Sweetheart Lynn Shaub was crowned at a gala Centennial Sweetheart Dance, which was attended by over 350 alumni from all parts of the U.S.

Sigma Nu Fraternity had a busy year in 1964, beginning with the IFC Sing, in which Brother Van Sternbergh won the Best Sing Director trophy.

Spring Semester, the Chapter took time out to honor Sigma Nu congressmen, senators, and government officials at its annual Congressional Reception, an event unique among fraternities on this campus and the nation.

September brought rush season into full swing, and Sigma Nu enjoyed one of its most successful rushes in years. The Fall social season began in October with parties, exchanges, and football games, climaxed in December by the White Rose Formal, held at the Shoreham Hotel. George Washington students were treated to many thrilling, heartbreaking, and glorious moments this fall, all provided by the most exciting Colonial football team. For the first time since 1960, the Buff and Blue finished the season with a winning record. Getting off to a slow start at the beginning of the schedule, GW was 1-3, including an opening game loss to poorly touted Boston University, and a 33-0 drubbing at the hands of Virginia Tech. But then the true caliber of the team came to the fore. Under the able hands of Head Coach Jim Camp, the Colonials won four of their last five games, the only blemish being a 20-19 heartbreaker to West Virginia. On route the Buff knocked off two bowl-likely teams, Cincinnati and Villanova, in the terrific Homecoming encounter. With only five seniors, the team can look forward to an even better year in 1965.

STARTING SENIORS
 Harry Haught Paul Flowers
 Don Perriello Joe Heilman
 CO-CAPTAINS

Don Perriello gets his big chance to make good as an open field runner against Vanderbilt.

Villanova defenders move up to bring down Mike Holloran after he took a pass in the flat.

GWU COLONIALS

Don is back to leading the ball carrier on this play, but it appears to be for naught.

Tailback Harry Haught follows the blocking of Jon Raemore and Tom Reilly.

"Hawk" D'Orazio, all-conference defensive back, picks off another.

The Villanova fullback is not about to get past Lou Astolfi on this play.

Lyle calls signals behind his wall of protection.

SOPHOMORE

One of the brightest spots for the Colonials this year was their star sophomore back, Garry Lyle. The 6-2, 195 pounder, from Verona, Pennsylvania started the year at tailback, but was switched to quarterback in the second half of the Vanderbilt game. In the five games Lyle started at quarterback, only the squeaker with SC champ West Virginia was a losing effort. An amazingly deceptive runner, Lyle found the quarterback option an excellent manner to become one of the top men in total offense in the conference. Second only to Virginia Tech's Bob Schweickert in polling votes to the All-conference team, Garry Lyle will be an excellent addition to Buff teams for the next two years.

Garry Lyle

Lyle is off and running around the William and Mary end. Any time he turns the corner, the yards will be eaten away.

In one of several long touchdown jaunts against West Virginia, Lyle is goalward bound.

SENSATION

Congratulations are forthcoming after a Colonial victory.

Lyle has the option to run, or swing a pass out to Tom Metz.

A rib injury proves very painful in the West Virginia battle.

Lyle cocks his arms to throw . . .

Sophomore fullback Jon Raemore drives up the middle against Furman

Lyle deftly hands off to Haught on a reverse, as Holloran and Raemore lead him around the end

Paul Flowers leaves pass blockers in his wake as he brings down the William and Mary quarterback.

Villanova defenders move up to tackle wingback Holloran after receiving a swing pass.

... to Flowers who waits patiently for the ball.

The "Grossest" feature of Mark Gross to rival teams is his fabulous toe.

Joe Heilman catches the Villanova quarterback in the backfield.

George Ferguson gets off another of his long punts against Vanderbilt.

Lyle is loose for a score against the Indians.

Flowers makes a beautiful reception in the Furman game.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

The past basketball season was one of the most unpredictable in the team's history. Returning to play for the Colonials were four starters from last year's tournament finalists, Kenny Legins, Mark Clark, Phil Aruscavage, and Ric Duques. However, in the past tradition of GW teams, the hoopsters got off to a terrible start, with six quick defeats. But when the team began to show its capabilities, especially in home games at Fort Myer, the excitement of a good winning team abounded. Such games as the squeaker to nationally ranked St. John's, the first game victory over the Mountaineers, and the conquering of arch-rival Georgetown were some of the greatest thrills of the season. The loss of scoring leader Legins, who suffered a broken bone in his foot in the second West Virginia game. Hurt by this and other ailments, the Colonials, entering the SC tournament with a 10-12 record, were eliminated in the first round. Despite the loss to graduation of so many boys, next year's squad will feature game experienced boys like Ed Rainey, Bill Murtha, Joe Lalli, and Dick Ballard.

Senior guard Mark Clark drives around his Indian defender, and heads for the basket.

Rich Duques forfeits eight inches to Mountaineer Bob Camp, but still lays in two points for the upset-minded Colonials.

Little sophomore guard Joe Lalli displays excellent ball-hawking skill in freezing out the trailing West Virginians.

Phil Aruscavage takes out his fury on VMI on a fast break layup.

6'6" sophomore Ed Rainey uses his long reach to pull down an errant Indian shot.

Bill Murtha keeps the ball away from his phantom adversary.

Who said basketball is a non-contact sport?

A St. Johns' player ignores the fact that Clark is scoring, in order to try his hand at boxing.

GW's four graduating starters begin a play against William and Mary. They include Kenny Legins (40), Phil Aruscavage (42), Rick Duques (with ball), and Mark Clark (20).

The loss of scoring leader Kenny Legins, who broke his foot in the second West Virginia game, was a great blow to Colonial chances in the conference tournament. Above left, in the first Mountaineer game, Legins was the scoring spark that paved the way for GW's upset win. In the St. John's game, Kenny was one of those who nearly pulled off a win against the nationally ranked New Yorkers. With Legins out for the rest of the season, much of the scoring burden fell on Clark, a great clutch player, and an all-tournament guard in 1964.

BASEBALL

Tony Romasco puts a called strike three past a Hoya.

Bob Smith does some umpiring as the Colonials rally.

It's a nice tag, but the ball hasn't gotten there yet.

"CONFERENCE CHAMPS" TENNIS

After a brilliant 1964 season in which Colonial netmen won their eighth conference championship in the last nine years, the tennis team faces somewhat of a rebuilding task with the loss of Nos. 1, 2, & 3 racqueteers Harvey Harrison, Buddy Goeltz, and Steve Kahn. Kahn has returned to Foggy Bottom to assume the duties of tennis coach, as last year's mentor, Bill Shreve has found it necessary to more time at the Tennis Shop. In defense of the crown, the team will look to lettermen Singer and Montalvan.

Harrison goes high for a forehand, and Goeltz goes low for a backhand.

Bob Haney chips off the fringe.

Keep your eyes on the ball.

GOLF

The Colonial linksmen are one of the teams to beat when GW opens its conference season March 15. Last year's team had a terrific 10-2-1 record, with a third place finish in the SC tournament, and this year sights are set even higher. Coached by Bob Faris, the team, led by returning lettermen Chuck Collett, Dick Hamm, and John Sherwood, will miss the services of last year's Nos. 1 & 2 players, Bob Murphy and Bob Haney.

Bob Murphy hits a long iron off the fairway.

CREW

The doctor says I'll have to wear it three weeks.

"Uh, How deep is the water here?"

Left-handed salute

On the Potomac at six in the morning is the Colonial crew team. With seven returning lettermen, the varsity is looking forward to a good spring. Participation in crew has risen to the point, where GW hopes to have freshmen, JV, lightweight, and varsity rowers.

"Oh boy, this'll be the tenth window I've busted today!"

"It's that damn tennis elbow again, Doc!"

SPORT TRIBULATIONS

It's an uphill battle all the way.

"But . . . but the green is right behind you!"

THE FRESHMEN COMETH

AWE, APPREHENSION, ACCOMPLISHMENT

Required Freshman uniform: madras and weejuns.

You're dam right we're dirty old men.

Arriving en masse to campus early in September, the freshman class of nearly 1,000 teenagers received its first glimpse of college life through orientation lectures, counseling sessions, dorm meetings, aptitude tests and "street dances." The largest class to enter the University was greeted by upperclass men and women, administration, and faculty members eager to help the fledglings meet the problems of the first few weeks of school. Freshman girls entered a lovely new dormitory equipped with a dining hall and staffed by young graduate assistants.

The Hustlers.

Just plug me in.

The Superdorm

You don't really want to help, do you?

Two out of three freshman girls think I'm great!

Wise up, Honey.

REGISTRATION

Just put female.

Just follow the signs.

What's this about topless bathing suits?

Keep your hands above the table, buster!

Oh no, this is George Washington.

I don't want a combo just a yearbook.

Are they really out of toilet paper?

Newly tested Dean approval system.

The worst is yet to come—the payoff.

FRATERNITY RUSH

THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH

Hey, hey, sign your life away!

G Street Jungle

Who says we won't get 76?

Where have all the rushmen gone?

Rush 1964—who can forget it . . . AEPi's find new significance in "76 Trombones" . . . Bart's pizza . . . SAE's trip to the Md.-Okla. game . . . the Sigs new ceiling . . . Delts Afghan hound . . . Sig Ep's new mascot . . . promises, promises, promises . . . "We have 37% fewer active alumni" . . . Sing, brothers, sing . . . All you can drink for only a dollar . . . What do you mean you want to go second semester . . . and we only have 5 assessments per month . . . 12 good houses . . . brotherhood, sociability, scholarship—you'll always find them here!

Listen, honey, I'm more fun than they are.

Then along came the Salvation Army . . .

SORORITY RUSH

McHales Navy—A Straight-Arrow Crew

If I pledged, would I have to look like that?

And our group had 40% less brains.

I wish I may, I wish I might . . .

Under the direction of Panhellenic President Nan Webster, Fall Rush resulted in the pledging of 198 girls, a record number. Each of the sororities had parties and skits and tried to attract the rushees into their group. Familiar sights during rush . . . rain . . . bright-colored rush dresses . . . white-ribboned Delphi girls . . . Panhel post office . . . name tags . . . buff and blue ribbons . . . smiles and "hello!" . . . happy new pledges.

Squawk, garble, yuk.

Only eight more parties to go!

O'ooo Where's the ladies room.

Organized Pan-Hel relay team.

Rush is over after two hectic weeks, but the excitement just begins. During the fall semester the new pledges became acquainted with sorority activities through philanthropic work, academic programs, athletic events, and social gatherings. Under the leadership of Panhellenic, sororities cooperate in a general spirit of active participation in campus affairs.

Mormon Tabernacle choir and a few Episcopalians.

UNTIL NEXT FALL . . .

MOCK ELECTION LANDSLIDE FOR LBJ

They voided my write-in for Frank Sinatra

Apply a little silly putty to the forehead and slap it on

Cast your ballot for Johnson or—er Goldfinger

Anxious moments

Miss. "Vote-Vote" USA and runnerup.

Lynda Byrd Johnson and a record number of her fellow students jammed Woodhull to cast their votes in the Mock Election. Campaigning was hot and heavy but the vote went as predicted; an overwhelming majority for President Johnson.

It's in the bag

"BELLS ARE RINGING"

Watch your elbow!

FLOAT PARADE

Phi Sigma Kappa "kicks of the Wildcats" and sweeps Homecoming honors

Would anyone like a used wildcat?

Delta Tau Delta tips the scales in favor of the Colonials to capture second place in the fraternity division

Kappa Delta spills over Villanova to win the sorority cup for second place.

An elaborate parade was the result of many sleepless hours of work. Homecoming Queen Nancy Schuh and her court led the procession down G Street. Pi Beta Phi and Phi Sigma Kappa's floats were chosen best by the judges. Entrants in the Marlon Brando motorcycle contest were a noisy addition. Regrets were voiced by those who had classes and missed the too-short event.

Drag ya to Leo's.

Pi Beta Phi labored to win first place.

Coach Camp and Varsity rally to be pepped.

Phi Alpha

Queen Nancy and Acting President Colclough

The Colonials trounced Villanova to begin Saturday's victorious Homecoming celebration. Tuxedo-clad Gate and Key initiates added to the color of the afternoon. According to Chairman Bob Ross, this year's Homecoming Dance would depict a year of change. The dance honored the country's greatest losers and the Armory was decorated with slogans of lost campaigns. Bill Doggett, the Coasters and the Roaches added life to the traditionally spirited evening.

Oof!

And she's off!

Laura's spiked punch.

GOAT SHOW

Theta's rally at SAP Exchange.

"Stop the World" it's time for another Goat Show. Sponsored by Junior Panhellenic, sorority pledges compete with original skits centered around a common theme and line. Trophies are given in three categories: originality, ensemble and audience appeal. Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity submitted the winning line, "Our group has 20% fewer . . ."

Top honors in ensemble were taken by Alpha Epsilon Phi. They combined Cinderella with Tom Jones music. Delta Gamma won the audience appeal with a spoof on Greeks. Judged the most original was Pi Beta Phi's portrayal of the various roles of wives.

The show provides friendly competition and promotes pledge class unity. Cans of food required for admission are given to charity.

Zeus LEAP's for DG, winning audience appeal.

Way out Chi O's.

STOPS THE WORLD!

Achilles, You're a heel!

AEPhi wins ensemble.

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS . . .

T'is the Season to be jolly, Ho Ho Ho.

And here he comes now . . .

... PARTIES GALORE

Heh, Heh, It's an empty package.

Next comes a strainer and the baby food.

But I want it! It's mine.

It's a nunny!
